Those with special needs are routinely prohibited access to the arts.

Our programs offer opportunities for those with special needs to express themselves and improve their quality of life.

Merrimack Hall Performing Arts Center provides arts education and cultural activities to children and adults with special needs.

No other organization in the Southeast offers similar services.

Founded in 2008, Merrimack Hall started as 1 weekly dance class for 10 children with special needs. Over twelve years, our programs have grown to 23 arts related classes that serve hundreds of individuals from across North Alabama. These extracurricular activities enrich the social and creative needs of all who are involved.

YOUR DONATION COVERS

ARTS EDUCATION

Art is inspiring and affords a space for independent and creative expression, with multiple benefits for those with disabilities.

PRODUCTION

Sponsors cover the costs associated with producing professional performances, including costumes, lighting, and sound.

SOCIALIZATION

Our programs give opportunities for interaction with their peers in a non-competitive environment, granting self-confidence.
